The Republic of Belarus won the International Drawing Competition on the theme "Ecosystem Conservation - Climate Protection"

The Republic of Belarus won the International Drawing Competition on the theme "Ecosystem Conservation - Climate Protection" to select an illustration of a new international response coupon (IRC) called "Abidjan".

Within the framework of this competition, organized by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, RUE " Belpochta " held a Republican drawing competition among residents of the Republic of Belarus who have reached the age of 14, in which 14-year-old Valeria TSIMAKHAVETS became the winner. It was her work that represented our country at the International Drawing Competition for the design of the 2020 international response coupon in Bern, Switzerland, and on the basis of which a new IRC (Abidjan model) will be presented at the session of the Postal Operations Council in April 2021.

Belarus can rightfully be proud of such talented children who, with their creativity, increase the prestige of their native country!
